The Henley Youth Festival is passionate about providing opportunities for Henley's young people and we are keen to keep spreading our news to our many friends and supporters as well as sending out vital news updates. However, we are committed to ensuring we only contact those who want to be contacted and that we hold people's details securely.

Our Privacy Policy below sets out how we use the information that you give us and how we keep it safe.

Subscribers opt-in to our mailing list so that we can keep them better informed via email bulletins about dates, latest developments and upcoming events. We only hold names and email addresses of subscribers.

Subscriber data is collected via opt-in sections on entry forms, operational emails or pop-up forms on our website and social media.
